

I am a technology professional interested in increasing connectivity opportunities for communities. Please consider the needs of the many over those of the few in this proceeding. Low barriers to entry are key in the continued growth of wireless internet networking. Your regulations should encourage low-power solutions and not establish exclusive licensing rights, or they will just create a closed system, stifling community growth and innovation. Thank you for your time.